

Why should we be bothered with telemarketers at all. They call all hours of the day and night and on weekends. It's never ending. My thoughts are this, if I want something I apply for it, buy it or whatever. Some of us are in a financial bind as it is, then you have creditors calling for their money, and the very next phone call is the same company saying you are a valued customer and you are authorized for a bizzion dollars of credit. It's crazy. So I say stop them all and let those folks find other employment. Oh and after they get you on the phone they take the important personal info and the next thing you know you are on everyone elses list too. Enough.
